Bench-table-bench for outside and inside, for work and leisure

The bench-table-bench elements of metal tubing with solid wooden slats are modelled on the classic picnic table. The ergonomic table edge makes the bench a pleasant place on which to work, and in the opposite sitting position, for comfortably leaning against. When equipped with a parasol, you can always keep a cool head, whether at work or during a cosy get-together. é_change offers a place for exchanging ideas or for getting on with concentrated work.
